DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-38 are rejected under 35 USC 101 because they disclose a claimed invention that is an abstract idea as defined in the case In re Warmerdam, 33, F 3d 1354, 31 USPQ 2d 1754 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

Analysis: Claims 1-38 disclosed by the applicant as being an “event ordering system...”. Since the claims are each a series of steps to be performed on a computer the processes must be analyzed to determine whether they are statutory under 35 USC 101.

Examiner interprets that the claims 1-38 are non-statutory because they do not disclose that how a system will be able to receive temporal constraints and execute in a order without incorporating steps of carrying out its intend results and further without incorporating a processor, memory and medium. Therefore, claims 1-38 are unable to produce tangible useful results and its functionality cannot be realized. Thus, claims 1-38 are non-statuary and rejected under 35 SC 101.

Analysis: Claims 27-28 and 38 disclosed by the applicant as being a “a computer readable medium having stored...”. Since the claims are each a series of steps to be performed on a computer the processes must be analyzed to determine whether they are statutory under 35 USC 101.

Art Unit: 2191

Further, examiner interprets that claims 27-28 and 38 are not limited to tangible embodiments. Claims 27-28 and 38 are readable medium the medium is not limited to tangible embodiments, instead being defined as including both tangible embodiments (e.g., [computer readable medium]) and intangible embodiments (e.g., [transmission media, radio frequency (RF), infrared (IR), a carrier wave, telephone line, a signal, etc.]). As such, the claim is not limited to statutory subject matter and is therefore non-statutory. To overcome this type of 101 rejection the claims need to be amended to include only the physical computer media and not a transmission media or other intangible or non-functional media.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: generating, determining, executing, registering/storing etc.

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested:

"System and Method For Specifying and Executing Temporal Order Events".

Claim Objections

Claim 21 is objected to because of the following informalities: dependent claim 21 is improperly dependent and claim 29 should end with period (.). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rossomando USPN 6,910,204.

Regarding claims 1, 5, 9, 20, 27, 28 and 38

Rossomando teaches,

a constraint component that receives temporal constraints associated with a plurality of events (figures 4-5, column 2, lines 30-42, “these requirements... to an event”); and an order component that determines an event order in accordance with the temporal constraints, wherein the event order specifies the execution order of events (column 7, lines 16-22, “a temporal relationship... focus area 222”).

Art Unit: 2191

Regarding claims 2, 3 12, 14 and 34

Rossomando teaches,

the constraint is an event start and/or a stop time (column 19, table 5, lines 40-46, “thus when...”).

Regarding claim 4

Rossomando teaches,

The constraints are a filter (column 18, lines 51-67, “another advantage... preferred embodiment”).

Regarding claim 6

Rossomando teaches,

Information about an executing system includes available memory (column 4, lines 22-45).

Regarding claim 7

Rossomando teaches,

Information about and execution system includes data throughput rate (column 18, lines 51-67, “another advantage... preferred embodiment”).

Regarding claims 8, 10, 11, 13, 15-19 and 21-26

Rossomando teaches,

Art Unit: 2191

a display component that provides a plurality of object workspaces, the workspaces including at least one of a past, present and/or future space, the present space is an editable area (figures 2-4, column 7, lines 28-41, “ at step 302... focus area specification”, column 73, lines 44-45); and a design component that temporally associates and/or disassociate objects in the editable area (figures 2-4, column 72, lines 5-6, “specifying a temporal... focus areas).

Regarding claims 29, 30 and 37

Rossomando teaches,

receiving object data associated with events from a workspace including at least one of a past, present, and future area (figures 1-5 and 7, columns 9-10, table 1); and, associating objects temporally based at least in part upon relative object locations (figures 2-4, column 72, lines 5-6, “specifying a temporal... focus areas).

Regarding claim 31 and 36

Rossomando teaches,

Operation object correspond to a loop (column 2, lines 60-67, “focus area...described above”).

Regarding claim 32

Rossomando teaches,

The operation object corresponds to a trigger (figures 4-7).

Regarding claim 33 and 35

Rossomando teaches,

Operational objects corresponds to a conditional (column 7, lines 42-65, “at step 304...”).
